

Anniston Museum of Natural History

Scavenger Hunt

Dynamic Earth Hall

1. Name two natural forces that change the earth's surface:

_____ and _____

2. _____ rocks are formed from hot molten materials.

3. What type of mammal do you see in the dinosaur habitat?

4. Was Albertosaurus a carnivore or a herbivore? _____

How would you know just by looking at him? _____

5. List two animals you see in the cave: _____ and _____

Alabama: Sand to Cedars Hall

6. The world's largest gray bat population can be found in _____.

7. Which habitat is host to such animals as the coral snake, the beach mouse and the herring gull? _____

8. Red-cockaded woodpeckers make their nests in _____

9. How fast can a pair of beavers gnaw through tree branches? _____

Attack and Defense Hall

10. What is a mountain goat's best defense? _____

11. Which predator would dare to attack a porcupine? _____

12. What bird is able to change its feather colors with the seasons in the Arctic? _____

13. Where can you find 20 million buffalo skulls in this hall?

_____ 14. Who was the predator? _____

Birds of the Americas

15. Three things that birds and alligators have in common are:

_____, _____ and _____.

16. Why does the great blue heron have long legs? _____

17. Name three things that a bald eagle eats:

_____, _____ and _____.

Adaptations to the Environment

18. What is Africa's most endangered species: (hint: they are slaughtered for their horn) _____

19. The _____ is the tallest mammal in the world.

20. Elephants chew the bark of the baobab tree to _____.

21. Hippos perform two very important functions in the wetlands. They keep _____ open for other creatures and their droppings enable _____ to flourish as a food source for fish.

Ancient Egypt

22. What plant was paper for writing in Ancient Egypt made from?

23. Name three plants necessary for the mummification process

24. Ancient Egyptians used a method of symbols for writing called

_____.

Explore Your World!

Remember: Pencils and pens can damage exhibits, so please be careful and don't place your paper on the exhibits to write your answer. Answer sheets at Front Desk

Thanks You